He also appears regularly in the Court of Appeal, the Court of Criminal Appeal and the High Court of Australia.

He is a versatile Silk, having conducted hundreds of broad ranging commercial cases involving contracts, misleading, deceptive and unconscionable conduct, breaches of fiduciary and other duties, partnership and joint ventures, trusts, franchise, vendor/purchaser, real property, oppression of shareholders, directors duties and securities. He has also conducted numerous professional negligence, planning and environment, building and engineering, defamation, insurance, fraud and criminal matters, both at first instance and on appeal. In crime, Todd has appeared for accused persons indicted on serious criminal offences including murder, fraud, sexual assault and acts of indecency. He also appears in sentencing appeals.

Through his broad practice, Todd has developed particular expertise in litigation involving landslides, agriculture, defending prosecutions in Class 5 of the Land and Environment Court's jurisdiction and deceased estates. He is also engaged in mediation and commercial arbitration and is often retained to act as a Mediator in commercial disputes.

As a commissioned officer in the RANR, he has both prosecuted and defended military personnel before Courts Martial and Defence Force Magistrates.

Many years ago as Junior Counsel, Todd conducted most of the nervous shock and compensation to relative claims and the majority of the commercial claims arising out of the Thredbo landslide for individual and corporate plaintiffs against the State of NSW, having represented the families of the victims of that tragedy at the long running Coronial Inquiry.
